SIMPACK Academy

A profound understanding of the theoretical background is often necessary to resolve problems arising within the field of simulation engineering. This required theory will be covered by a series of courses at the SIMPACK Academy. The SIMPACK Academy does not concentrate on the use of SIMPACK but instead on essential theoretical background. These courses are offered to users with 1-2 years MBS experience.

The next course will take place Niederpöcking, near Munich, on the 29th and 30th of January 2003: FEM-MBS-Interfacing.
